

November 10th 2009

Between the lines

Some inferences I can draw from that sentence is that he is a very rich man. A man that has over $35 million and spends it on going to space is considered rich. Also in the text it says that he is one of the richest people in Canada so that explains that he is rich.

Beyond the Lines

1. Some reasons why he considers it a great privilege to live on planet earth is because he has been in space and saw how beautiful the planet earth was and thought to himself that it is a privilege to live on a beautiful planet like earth and not on another planet that is not so pretty. Another reason is that it is so dark in space and on earth there is so much light and we are very lucky to live on a planet like earth
2. I agree with his perspective because I think it is a great opportunity to live on earth because it has lots of shelter and great inventions for people to use every day and for all the light and food and water to keep us living. I think earth is a great place to live. I disagree with his perspective because I think from space planet earth looks all pretty but there is a lot of pollution and smoke going into the air which makes it unhealthy.

Just talk about it

Some suggestions that should determine who goes into space besides people with lots of money should be people with a dream to go into space. Some people would love to go into space but unfortunately have no money to do that. I think the people who are really desperate to explore space should and not just astronauts that are trained to do it.